

JANUARY

Often a painting provides inspiration for a colour palette. The myriad greys of deep winter are captured beautifully in this antique watercolour sketch.

Gentle Art: Aged Pewter

Weeks Dye Works: Grits

Weeks Dye Works: Galvanised

Gentle Art: Pebble

Weeks Dye Works: Driftwood

‘There is a kind of white that is more than white...’

Lace and image Vicky Trainor @thelinengarden

Wintry sky whites, dirty whites, creamy whites, grey whites, chalky whites, the gleam of silk, the matt of coton à broder, mother-of-pearl sheen, ancient paper white, old Suffolk puff white, pure snowdrop white, 'girls in white dresses' white, blanc, raw silk white, the palest pinky white of a hellebore petal... so many whites.